

CREAM CITY FOUNDATION

PRIDE MONTH EDITION -2023

Dear Supporters,

Happy Pride! The LGBTQ+ community has consistently demonstrated resilience in the face of adversity. Pride Month is simultaneously a celebration of who we are and a protest. Our expressions of public joy and love are still looked upon as revolutionary.

In May, I had the honor to attend GSafe's Celebration of Leadership. It was an energizing night and exciting to see so many young people, the leaders of tomorrow, receive recognition for their advocacy and action. It's very clear that we are also in a new era of attacks upon our community, especially our trans siblings and people of color. It is more important than ever that we rise up – TOGETHER- and support the leaders of tomorrow who will continue the fight for our health, equity and prosperity.

Thank you for joining with CCF as we continue to strive to ensure our local community has the resources it needs to continue its march for justice and equity.

With Pride,

Charlie Nash - CCF President & Board Chair

What does Pride Month mean to our board members?

JAMIE SCHOUNARD

Jamie Schounard (back left) enjoys Pride Month because it gives him an opportunity to reflect on the path he and his kids have traveled over the past decade. “Ten years ago, I came out and went through a divorce. Since then, I have found and married my best friend (husband Trey), and supported the journeys of my non-binary and lesbian daughters. We are truly a rainbow family!”

ANGIE HARDEN

Pride Month means embracing and loving a part of me that the world hasn't always reciprocated. It means living fully and authentically as myself and being surrounded by others doing the same. It's a time to celebrate our incredible Milwaukee LGBTQ+ community and feel the joy in everyone's hearts. Amidst the joy, it's also a call to action and a reminder that the work needed to move our community forward is not yet complete.

PETER BURGELIS

Pride month is important to the LGBTQ+ community. It's a moment we celebrate our true and authentic selves as our true and authentic selves. We remember those before us who fought for equality, and we thank those who accept us for who we are. Pride month builds better and true community.
